Durbin, Narberth realty broker, was appointed to the vice-presidency made vacant by Mr. Drennen's promotion from that office.

Floods were discussed by Carl Peter Birkinbine, Bala-Cynwyd engineer, who took up a timely topic largely in the light of the aftermath of the 1936 floods. Vivid descriptions of the desolation, loss of life and expense consequent upon these recent great floods were supplemented by praise for the public health officials, police and utility employees who act in these emergencies with intelligence and heroism.

Survey is Approved for New Postoffice

Notice Follows Visit of Narberth Delegation to Washington

QUARTERS HELD SMALL

A survey will be made in Narberth to determine the necessity for, site, etc., of, a new postoffice in the borough.

Joseph L. Kelley, postmaster, received notice to that effect this week from William Purdum, fourth assistant postmaster general of Washington.

Last week Mr. Purdum gave a cordial reception to Chester P. Cook, John Gilroy and Anton E. Wohler, all of this community, who urged the erection of a new postoffice building.

Members of the group feel that the present structure on Essex avenue is becoming inadequate as the territory served by the Narberth office increases and its receipts and business mount.

Postal receipts in Narberth increased 15 per cent during the last two years.

Members of the committee cite the fact that neighboring communities, Bala-Cynwyd, Bryn Mawr and Havertown, have new postoffice buildings, erected during the last year or two and that Ardmore's new postoffice is under construction.

If the survey to be made by the postoffice department is favorable, the next step will be to secure a Congressional appropriation and then take bids for the ground and building.

The present postoffice was built in 1928 and is leased to the government by Joseph P. White. Narberth is rated as a second class postoffice.

Legion Auxiliary's Annual Sauer Kraut Supper 11th

The members of the American Legion Auxiliary of Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, will again give to the community a sauer kraut supper on Thursday evening, February 11, from 5:30 until 7. The supper will be served in the post's room in the Community Building. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the auxiliary or post—or call Miss Emma Mueller, Narberth 9396R, for reservations. Supper will be prepared by Mrs. Johanna Entenmann and Mrs. John Mowrer and their aids.

Narberth's Health Good

Narberth's Board of Health at its February meeting Tuesday found the borough's health good considering the inclement season.

George B. Suplee, secretary and health officer, reported that during January there were five cases of contagious disease: whooping cough, one; scarlet fever, two; mumps, one, and measles, one.

He also issued twenty-six permits to food handlers during the month.

Guild Luncheon Monday

The St. Margaret's Guild of the Catholic Church in Narberth will hold a luncheon and bridge party this Monday at 1 P. M. at the Bala Golf Club.

Players To Present Excellent Cast In Barry's "Holiday" 11th and 12th

The Narberth Players next presentation "Holiday" by Philip Barry, will have Cecilia Link, Elizabeth Lynch and William Dougherty in the stellar roles.

Miss Evelyn Dutton will coach the three-act drama. The plot concerned is the story of two young, more-than-wealthy sisters, and forming that exciting triangle, the young lover, Johnny Case.

When the play opens next week, February 12 and 13 in the Narberth School auditorium, audiences will witness the untiring efforts of a cast of eleven of the Narberth Players. Miss Glenn McCann, of Cynwyd, is assisting in directing, while Mrs. Charles Harnden and Mrs. C. J. Brunel will be in charge of properties.

Miss Link and Miss Lynch have both had much previous training in dramatic works. A member of the players for two years, Miss Link is enjoying her second leading part. League Legislation is Presented at Meeting

Senator Bean Goes on Record as Approving Merit System

The program of the League of Women Voters was outlined for Montgomery County Legislators by Mrs. W. M. Gehmann, Jr., of Montgomery avenue, Cynwyd, at a luncheon meeting at the Valley Forge Hotel, Norristown, Friday.

The meeting, which was attended by ninety-three members and guests, was sponsored by the Montgomery County League of Women Voters for the purpose of presenting the League's program on proposed legislation to the legislators who may vote on it.

The guests of honor included State Senator Theodore Lane Bean, of Norristown; Lambert Cadwalader, of Villanova, representative from the First Legislative District; Hiram Ganser, of Norristown, Democrat, from the Second District; John H. Longaker, of Pottstown, and Harry Z. Wampole, of Telford, representatives from the Third Legislative District.

Congressman J. William Ditter, who had accepted the invitation to attend the meeting, was unable to do so because of illness.

Miss Virginia Atmore, of Wayne, State chairman of government and its operation, spoke on the Merit System and the Goodrich Plan.

In answer to Miss Atmore's appeal for support of the Merit System, Senator Bean declared that he would "go all the way with them."

He added that he felt very lonely in the Senate, as there were only sixteen Republicans there. "No one pays any attention to us; no one asks us to be on committees or notifies us when there are hearings. If you want support of your bills," he said, "you can do better by appealing to Mr. Ganser."

Miss Atmore declared that the League was pledged to support legislation based on the Goodrich Plan insofar as it follows the League program.

Mr. Longaker discussed the present trend toward centralization of units of government and urged members to "carefully study this problem and determine whether it is the American way."

Mrs. Forrest L. Gager, vice-chairman of the County League, and Mrs. Herbert Le Van, president of the North Penn League, spoke on other phases of legislation in which the League is interested.

Vehicular Tunnel Under R.R. Proposed

Joseph L. Kelley to Present Project Before Council Monday

MERCHANTS BACK PLAN

Joseph L. Kelley, Narberth postmaster and leading Democrat, will appear before borough Council Monday night to propose that a vehicular tunnel be made on Essex avenue under the Pennsylvania Railroad to connect the north and south sides of the town.

Mr. Kelley announced his plan before the meeting of Narberth Business Council Tuesday night at the Arcadia Restaurant and asked that the business men as a body also be present to give their indorsement to the project. Roy Gowland, president of the business group, and a large delegation have promised to attend.

A large proportion of the cost, it is held, would be available through WPA funds, making it possible for the borough and the railroad company to divide the smaller remaining expense.

A petition favoring the tunnel is to be circulated among the merchants.

Mr. Gowland was authorized to appoint a fellowship committee and general plans for improving business were discussed.

Next meeting of Business Council is planned as a discussion of the new postoffice and new tunnel projects.

G-Man Addresses Juniors; Artist in Reading 25th

Maxwell Chaffetz—"G" man from the Philadelphia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation—"pinch-hitting" for R. E. Vetterli, who was called out of town unexpectedly on business, spoke at the Narberth Junior Community Club last Thursday evening.

He gave a general idea of the setup of the F. B. I. and spoke on fingerprinting, explaining that no two persons fingerprints are alike—every finger of the Dionne Quints differs from every other. He mentioned how one latest fingerprint had saved the lives of four men apprehended for a crime and trapped and condemned the real culprits. The Technical Laboratories in Washington, D. C., employ over fifty men who are experts on handwriting, blood analysis, ballistics, etc.

Mr. Chaffetz said that every twenty seconds there is a major crime committed and every forty-five minutes a murder.

Mr. Chaffetz was very kind and answered a great many impromptu questions which the club members asked him at the close of the speech—saying in answer to one question that "newspapers make people 'crime-conscious' and put G-men in a better light."

On February 25 Mrs. Maroa Baily (who gave "Victoria Regina" last year) will again be with the Juniors, giving one of Noel Coward's current hits and a resume of the New York Theatrical Season. The public is invited for the guest admission price.

A vote of six to one residents favors the stop-and-go light, which, it is held, would help prevent accidents and also would aid in relieving traffic difficulties in Penn Valley.

The association's annual meeting will be held March 1, when it is expected the executive committee will be increased from eighteen to twenty members.

"I'M NO SANTA CLAUS..."

"Today I installed a telephone for an old lady who lives by herself. She's been pretty lonely, she said, since both her children moved out of town. Now that she has a telephone, they can call her up any time—and she can call them. She feels safe with a telephone in her home—and it must be a comfort to her children to know she can get help quickly if she needs it."

"Another job was an extension telephone that will enable a young mother to answer calls without leaving her baby alone and without running up and down stairs. I'm no Santa Claus—but I made a lot of people happy today just by installing telephones."

An extra telephone for your home—upstairs or in the kitchen—costs less than three cents a day. The service connection charge is only $2.00. To order an extension telephone, just call the Business Office—or ask any telephone employee.

Some staggering figures were quoted to show the complexity of control. Water flow of over two million cubic feet a second at New Orleans, the speaker said, indicated a reservoir system for control which might cost $30,000,000,000. The value of reservoir systems for impounding flood waters was questioned, due to the tendency of these basins to fill with silt.

The Pennsylvania Company has long sought to keep its banking service modern and attuned to the needs of the public. For many years it has made loans and has given sound business counsel to credit-worthy merchants and manufacturers.

Today the useful field of credit belongs as much to the modest income groups as to larger business enterprises. Professional and salaried men and women, established wage earners, proprietors of small businesses, in fact anyone whose income is steady and assured, is entitled to borrow money for proper and constructive purposes.

The Pennsylvania Company takes pleasure in announcing the inauguration of its Personal Loan Service, another progressive step toward a complete banking service to metropolitan Philadelphia. This plan, convenient and economical, is now available at the main office and each of the ten branch offices in Philadelphia and its suburbs.

Details of this Personal Loan Plan will be gladly furnished at any office of the Company

TIME OUT
With TOMMY MACKLIN

"Bill Anderson's Wizards" is the new name for the boys who travel the wooden way for Lower Merion. Pitted against Antediluvian Billy Markward's Roman Catholic High boys at the Arena early last week, the Maroon-clad Main Liners gave evidence of great things ahead. It was a warning that the Ardmore Aces were at the peak of their game as they smothered the city team under a 38 to 17 score. It was more evident when they returned to league competition against a vicious five from Norristown, and in spite of a rivalry that bordered on a throat-cutting plane, completely annihilated the Blue Eagles with a 43 to 15 landslide. That happened last Friday.

Tuesday evening found the curtain raised on one of the great acts of the 1937 drama—the Upper Darby's Return. Here was a club that had completely licked the Anderson-coached combine on the Palestra floor a few days before Santa Claus was scheduled to do his chimney stunts. It was a well-coached team that night at the Palestra, and it was just as well-coached when it lined up in the Ardmore gymnasium Tuesday night. In fact it is as smartly coached as any team in the suburbs and it took the finest kind of basketball to defeat it in the crucial contest of the season.

The result of that game, as many know, was Lower Merion victor by a 28 to 10 score. Even Jim Farley would have been at a loss to predict such an outcome. The score is far from giving the visitors the credit they deserved. The fine defense put up by the locals threw the Upland boys off their shooting stride to the extent that they could not even cash in on their many opportunities at the free throw line. "Bunny" Schreiber, Upper Darby's star performer and easily the outstanding basketball player in the Suburban loop, was so closely pressed by Clarence Griffiths that he was too shaken to score when he had his opportunities.

If Lower Merion had won by the scant margin of one point against the Upper Darby team that lined up against them this week, they would have been giving their coach a well-played game of basketball. More glory to them that they were able to smother the fine team in a brand of the game that measured up to the phenomenal.

Coach Andy has done well this season. His team has hit its real stride at the right time of the year. They are equipped to go down the home stretch pulling away from a fast field.

Clarence Griffiths, diminutive star from Narberth is the lad who has added class to an otherwise strong basketball team. He is a great exponent of one of the first fundamentals of the game. When he passes to a teammate he cuts for the basket. Following his lead the entire team is now basket conscious with the result that the old weaving system used by Anderson coached fives has a new and definite attack that looms more dangerous every game.

The boys will need all their guns tonight at Radnor. There should be a law against playing basketball in the Wayne gymnasium, but since there is not, the game will be played as scheduled. It is the last great barrier between Coach Andy and the league diadem.

The Junior High team meets Pottstown tonight in the Junior High gymnasium on Montgomery avenue. The Leopards have won nine and lost one this season. The defeat came at the hands of Stewart Junior High of Norristown by a one point margin. Tuesday afternoon they defeated Upper Darby 23 to 10 on the latter's floor. Captain Jack Ryan and Leonard Jones, both forwards, are out sick and it is doubtful if they will be in shape to take their places tonight. Jones has been absent for the last five games, while Ryan was out for the Upper Darby fust. The return of these two would give the Leopards the finest lineup of players to represent the school in a number of years. Pottstown was defeated by the locals 18 to 10 in their first meeting almost three weeks ago.

of Linda, which was played by Ann Harding in the movie version.

Miss Lynch has also been with the Narberth group for two years, and has performed in "Her Majesty's Voice" and "Riddle Me This." At present she is also active in a coming play to be given by the St. Francis organization in Philadelphia. Miss Lynch in next Friday and Saturday's presentations will have the part of Linda's older sister, Julia, pretty, alluring and in love with Johnny Case.

William Dougherty will play the part of Case. He has had varied stage experience, from the "Third Floor Front," given by the Black Friars' dramatic organization at the University of Alabama, to the "Royal Family of Broadway" with the Bessie V. Hicks Players.

Others in the cast will be Robert Estes, who plays the part of Ned, Linda's brother, who has found liquid relief from the boredom of doing nothing. That sparkling pair, Nick and Susan, will be played by the two talented McVickers, a new version of the brother and sister act, Marion and Art, in the role of husband and wife.

George Werner, practically a veteran of the players, will play the part of the business-minded, money-influenced father. Laura and Seton, other members of the Seton family will be played by Bessie McAllister and Richard Gable. Adelhaide Thomas will be the maid, Delia, and Elmer Hackman will take the part of Henry.

We received word from Erle L. Jackson, Director of Shipping, of the American Red Cross, who informed us by letter that the cartons were so well packed that they were immediately shipped by train to the flood refugees in Memphis, Tenn.

Narberth Wins Opener

Narberth's basketball team won the opening game of the second half of the Main Line League schedule from Phoenixville Monday, 47 to 31. Russ Hermann, guard, tallied eight field goals and three free throws for 19 points, while Hen Soleliac tabbed six from the floor for 12 points.

Jay Neill's boys kept up their good work at Chester Wednesday night, trouncing that city's five, 26-19. The Hermanns scored 18 points; Russ, 10, and brother Al, 8. Roy Stanley, former Penn star, appeared for the first time in a borough uniform and tallied two field goals.
